DETAILED ACTION

Examiner's Comment

1. For the purposes of examination, the term "thermoset" with respect to biaxially oriented polyester films is interpreted to be equivalent to "heat-set" biaxially oriented polyester films.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JAPANESE PATENT APPLICATION 11-091268 (hereinafter JP '268).

JP '268 discloses a laminate comprising a plurality of polyester layers bonded together by means of polyethylene adhesive layers, wherein the film comprises two pairs of polyester/adhesive/polyester assemblies (Abstract; Figure 1; paragraph 0011) wherein the laminate is suitable for forming stiff, durable articles such as cards. However, the reference does not explicitly disclose the use of biaxially oriented polyester films.

Art Unit: 1773

NEWTON discloses that it is well known in the art to use biaxially oriented polyester film which have been heat-set after orientation in order to obtain strong, dimensionally stable articles such as cards. (line 10-60, col. 5).

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use biaxially oriented heat-set polyester films in the laminate of JP '268 in order to obtain mechanical strong, durable laminates capable of withstanding tensile or compressive loads in film plane directions.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. Claims 1-6 are allowable over the prior art of record.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record fails to disclose or suggest polyester laminates wherein the laminates comprises two film assemblies adhesively bonded together, wherein the assemblies each comprise two biaxially oriented polyester film layers bonded together by an adhesive layer: (1) wherein the laminated comprises two film assemblies (claim 7); or (2) wherein the two film assemblies are adhesively bonded to each side of a biaxially oriented polyester core layer (claim 1).
